

I've been a registered Republican for over 30 years and a retiree from AT&T and i'm sick and tired of big lobbyist/money trying to protect there business through government rather than competition. If your trying to start a revolution within the silent majority your headed that way.

I love my Xm radio and look forward to more innovative services in the future.

If you can't compete get retrained like the rest of us and get a new job.
